GREATEST OF WARS STOPS

EX-KAISER, NOW FUGITIVE, IS INDICTED ON 3 CHARGES OF MURDER

REQUISITION WILL BE MADE BY ENGLAND FOR EXTRADITION OF FORMER EMPEROR TO FACE TRIAL

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE BANNER)

The greatest war in history ended this morning at 6:00 o'clock Washington time after one thousand 567 days of horror in which virtually the whole civilized world has been convulsed.

Announcement of the tremendous event was made at the state department at the capital at 2:45 o'clock this morning and in a few seconds was flashed throughout the continent by The Associated Press.

Details of the terms dictated by Marshal Foch on Friday afternoon to the German armistice delegates have not as yet been given out, but it is believed they are of such a nature as to protect the world from a resumption of the struggle by the Germans. It is assumed that they call for the demobilization of German's army, the surrender of part of her fleet and the dismantling of the rest and the evacuation of occupied portions of France and Belgium and of Alsace-Lorraine. It is probable also that Germany has agreed to come home all her troops now in Russia and Rumania.

The terse announcement of the state department did not tell anything of the scene at Marshal Foch's headquarters at the time the armistice was signed. It was stated, however, that at five o'clock, Paris time, the signatures of Germany's delegates were affixed to the document which blasted forever the dreams which embroiled the world in a struggle which has cost at the very lowest estimate 10,000,000 lives. When the war began the Teutonic alliance was headed by two of the proudest houses in history—the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs. Today William III of Germany is a fugitive in Holland and Charles I of Austria while he may be still in his country has been stripped of power and has seen his empire shattered into pieces. Ferdinand of Bulgaria another of the rulers in the Teutonic combination has fled from his country and Mohammed V of Turkey who also joined in the attempt of Germany to dominate the world is dead, slain it is said, by the hand of an assassin.

While the curtain was rolling down on the most stupendous tragedy in mankind's history events were moving with terrible swiftness in Germany the nation about which revolved the plot and counter-plot of the drama. Berlin, Leipzig, Stuttgart, Cologne, Hamburg and Frankfurt are in the hands of the revolutionists who last week raised the red flag at Kiel. Germany's navy apparently is scattered into disjointed units each seeking sanctuary in Danish ports or waiting in German harbors for the latest turn of events.

Crowds singing the Marseillaise are marching through the streets of autocratic Berlin and a soldiers' and workmen's council has taken over the government of the empire.

Wurttemberg, Schleswig, Holstein and Hesse have declared themselves independent republics following the action taken by Bavaria last Friday. William II of Wurttemberg is reported to have abdicated. Saxony is said to be near a like declaration and the revolutionists are said to be in control at Dresden.

ISADORA DUNCAN'S HOME NEAR PARIS NOW A HOSPITAL

The magnificent home of Isadora Duncan, the dancer, at Bellevue, near Paris, was recently taken over by the American Red Cross and converted into a 500-bed hospital for American gas patients. The photograph shows the roof of the building, used for the convalescent soldiers, some of whom are seen.

Austria that Poland has annexed the crown land of Galicia.

As the last hours of the mighty combat drew near French, British, Belgian and American forces were rapidly passing the last German troops from France and Belgium. General Pershing's men yesterday attacked over a front of 48 miles from the Meuse southeastward into Lorraine. This drive probably the last to be recorded in the war gained an average of two or three miles and approached within ten miles of the fortress of Metz.

It is suggested that William Hohenzollern is not safe from the consequences of his deed even though he has fled to Holland. After the sinking of the Lusitania and during the early days of aerial raids on London he was three times indicted for murder in England. Under international law it is said requisition for his extradition may be made by England under the indictments still standing against him.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE BANNER)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—President Wilson issued a formal proclamation at 10 o'clock this morning that the armistice with Germany had been signed.

The proclamation follows:
My Fellow Countrymen:

The armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been accomplished. It will now be our fortunate duty to assist by example, by sober, friendly counsel and by material aid in the establishment of just democracy throughout the world.

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON.

President Wilson will read the terms of the armistice with Germany before a joint session of congress today.

So few members had returned today from their election vacation that when word of the president's coming reached the capital there was some doubt whether enough could be mustered for a joint session.

All members here were hastily called together, however, and arrangements made for a joint session at 1:00 o'clock this afternoon.

CHAOS IN AUSTRIA

(By Associated Press to The Banner)

Berne, Nov. 11—Complete chaos prevails in Austria, according to travelers returning here from that country. All the rural villages in the Tyrol are flooded with the returning armies in full disorder. In the villages the demoralized troops who are breadless, are plundering and requisitioning supplies.

Food from the east has been completely cut off. Artillerists are selling their horses for a trifle. Automobile drivers are going homeward as they please.

Many of the released Italian prisoners of war who are returning to Italy are trying to enter Switzerland.

NADJA FROLKOVA

Nadja Frolkova, sister of Mme Botchkarova, commander of the Russian battalion of death, has adopted Washington as her home and declares "I American; Russian, no." That is about all the English she has acquired. She is living in a girls' camp on the Potomac near Washington, where the occupants receive military training. She is sixteen years old, too young to have been a member of the "battalion of death," but now she is training to be an American soldier.
